Amber Arnold brings a unique perspective to Waller's Healthcare Compliance and Operations team. Prior to practicing law, Amber served as a registered nurse for five years and assisted patients in intensive care units and emergency departments in Middle Tennessee hospitals. Amber leverages her "real world" experience as a nurse to provide healthcare clients with valuable insight on operational matters and practical advice on issues ranging from federal and state fraud and abuse and privacy laws to provider contracts and governmental payor matters. Her experience includes assisting clients with Medicare billing and reimbursement issues, provider contracts, physician recruitment agreements and professional and facility licensure.
