Healthcare providers turn to Kristen Larremore for assistance with a wide range of regulatory compliance matters and healthcare transactions. Kristen counsels hospitals, health systems, outpatient services providers, physicians and medical practices on Stark law compliance, federal and state anti-kickback regulations, HIPAA, patient privacy and state healthcare regulations. Healthcare providers benefit from Kristen's experience with the regulatory aspects of transactional matters as well as with day-to-day operational issues such as licensure, provider and payor certification and the certificate of need process. Kristen's transactional experience includes acquisitions and divestitures of healthcare facilities as well as public and private financing transactions representing the corporate borrower.

Before joining Waller, Kristen gained valuable experience in healthcare regulatory and transactional matters as an associate in the Birmingham-based offices of two prominent law firms.
