Representing Defendants in Federal White Collar Sentencing Proceedings: How to Develop and Present Factual and Legal Arguments That Exceed Judicial Expectations

Please join us for the inaugural CLE event of the Criminal Justice Section’s new White Collar Crime Committee. This program offers an excellent opportunity for white collar defense practitioners to hear the views of a sitting District Court Judge and a Supervising U.S. Probation Officer about the white collar sentencing process, including the types of sentencing arguments counsel are expected to present. In addition, the discussion will offer practical strategies from counsel on how to formulate and present the most effective sentencing arguments, including how to challenge Guideline calculations, seek variances, and otherwise obtain the most favorable outcomes possible.
