Nick Rew represents private equity clients, portfolio companies, public companies and founder physicians in all manner of corporate healthcare transactions. His practice includes healthcare transactions involving hospital systems, physician services, home health and hospice services, and outpatient services.

Over the last decade, Nick's practice has been heavily involved in the private equity space where he has significant experience representing both buyers and sellers in platform sales and purchases and add-on transactions. Nick guides deals ranging in size from single physician practice acquisitions to large health system acquisitions and everything in between. Nick and his team add significant value to clients looking to close deals quickly by scaling the services provided to appropriately match client need and desired outcomes.

Nick has earned a reputation in the healthcare industry as an attorney who can navigate complicated healthcare regulatory and business issues, and companies rely on his experience and creative problem solving to effectively close deals. Nick prides himself on keeping a calm and even-keeled demeanor as he works through the ever increasingly complex issues that arise in healthcare transactions, and clients value his ability to provide clear direction in overcoming hurdles. A dedicated dealmaker, Nick know how to get deals to the finish line efficiently and in the best interest of his clients.
